MULTIMILLION-DOLLAR PRODUCER

Thinking About buying

As a buyer's agent, Jessica works with everyone from first-time homebuyers to professional real estate investors. She is a great resource for her buyers and has a growing list of professional contacts, including home inspectors, general contractors, electricians, plumbers, and carpenters. She understands how real estate works in the neighborhoods of Pittsburgh and stays current on market trends in the city and its surrounding areas.

Working With sellers

Jessica does more than simply list houses. She has both design and staging experience, as well as a background in photography. She also works with an interior decorator and a professional photographer. Between her background, and the team of professionals she enlists to help get a house ready for sale, she makes properties look their best and gives them the exposure they need.
